VOL. CXXXII.—No. 266. ALEXANDRIA, VIRGINIA, MONDAY, NOVEMBER 13, 1916. PRICE 2 CENTS

WILL FACE GRAND JURY

White Man, two Negroes and Negress Convicted by Police Court of Violating Prohibition Law.

The police Saturday and yesterday arrested several persons, mostly negroes, charged with being drunk and violating the prohibition law. Four of the accused—a white man, 2 negroes and a negress—were sent on to the grand jury by the Police Court this morning.

A white man, an Alexandrian charged with a similar offense, forfeited his collateral by failing to appear.

Wilson McKnight, colored, was also fined $5 for drunkenness.

The police made a descent upon a house in which several colored persons, male and female had gathered. It was shown by the evidence that Hillary Brown and Henry Williams had sent Sarah Pinkney to Washington to purchase liquor. One of the men had furnished money for three pints and the other for four pints. The who woman purchased the whisky and the two men were held for the action of the grand jury. Two other women who were in the house and drank some of the liquor were dismissed.

William M. Lee, was arrested by Officer Campbell yesterday for being drunk on north Lee street. A quart bottle labelled "Reliable Rye" which had not been "tapped", and a pint bottle, the contents of the latter nearly exhausted, were found upon him. Upon being arraigned this morning the prisoner said he lived near Fairfax Court house, that he went to Washington and purchased the liquor for his own use, and was not aware that he had violated the law. He was reminded of the fact that he brought more than the law allowed, and had stopped in Alexandria upon his way home and drank himself drunk. He was held for the grand jury.

According to the prohibition law, the Police Court has jurisdiction only in cases of drunkenness which provides for a fine of $5. All other infractions of the law will be considered by the grand jury.

CONDITIONS IN MEXICO

De Facto Government Fails to Meet Present Emergencies

A Washington dispatch to the New York Tribune says:

"The Mexican situation is again looming up threateningly on the American horizon. Gen. Carranza has reiterated his demand for the withdrawal of the American troops now in Mexico. The new demand is now on the way to Carranza's commissioners at the Atlantic City conference. Unless it is heeded, according to reliable information obtained here today, the Mexican commissioners will be instructed to withdraw immediately, leaving the situation dangerously acute.

The whole situation was further complicated today by reports received at the State Department of the continued arrest by Carranzistas of American citizens suspected of being secret agents of the American army, and of the massacre of scores of men, women and children by Zapata bandits. Officials hold that the arrest of Americans proves the insincerity of the first chief's pledges.

The continued depredations of Villa and Zapata bandits, it is held, shows that the de facto government by no means has the situation in hand, but still needs the presence of the American troops.

Carranza bases his new demand for the withdrawal of the expeditionary forces on the warning given to the State Department when the commission first met, that no delay would be tolerated after the presidential election.

Boy Dies After Brief Illness.

John Charles Gorham, aged seven, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Gorham, residing at Bailey's Cross Roads Fairfax county, died suddenly Saturday. He was taken ill the day before, while in school, with pains in his head. The funeral was held today at half past 2 at the Episcopal Chapel near his home.

DEPUTIES ON THE TRAIL

Prohibition Commissioner Peters Tells How the Entire State is Being Covered.

First announcement was made Saturday by State Prohibition Commissioner Peters of the number of deputies under orders in Virginia and the methods to be employed in enforcing the new statewide law. There are now on active duty 586 prohibition deputies and agents in the State, Dr. Peters said. To date thirty-nine cases have been sent to grand juries and twenty-five cases have been reported to the office of the commissioner for special investigation. A number of samples of near beer soon will be analyzed by the state chemist, the commissioner declared, and if alcohol is found in any of them arrests probably will follow.

"I have been gratified beyond my fondest hopes at the manner in which the people of Virginia are observing the prohibition regulations," said Dr. Peters. "There are 586 people in the state who are seeing to it that the laws are enforced. They will make reports to me of whatever violations they may see. So far there are only about 25 of these reports that have come to me, and they are being closely investigated. Thirty-nine cases have been sent to the grand juries in the state of persons who are charged with violations of the law. They are widely scattered.

"In all parts of the state the officers are observing the law. Several of these were opposed to prohibition, and they so voted. But they are showing a fine spirit in seeing to it that the will of the people is observed. Nothing could be better than that. But to me the great thing is to see the way in which the best class of people—and I mean those who voted for as well as those who voted against prohibition —is observing the law. There are in every community, of course, a few who persist in violating every law. We will always have to deal with them."

"When one compares the records of the reign of prohibition with that of the days when there was an abundance of saloons and plenty of liquor, the change is one that will impress itself on the mind of any man as one that gives the denial to the claim that there would be as much liquor as ever sold. Richmond police were directed to pick up all the drinking men; that is, when they showed signs of being unable to take care of themselves. They have been on the job. The arrests show what has been done in the way of excessive drinking for the last ten days. Merchants from the Old Market section of Richmond and shoe dealers and hat dealers declare that the last week has been the most successful and profitable in their whole lives.

"They tell me that they never before did so much business, sold so many goods for cash. These men could have had no object in telling me this except to tell the truth. I do not know how they voted. I do not know their sentiments. They came to my office and told me the facts as I have related them to you, except that they went into details. Furniture and clothing men say the same, and druggists say that they are making more sales than ever, toilet articles and the every-day necessities predominating."

Several Alexandrians were arraigned in the Police Court this morning to answer the charge of operating auto trucks without licenses. The accused alleged that they had made applications for the same and were allowed a reasonable time to procure them.

Considerable difficulty is being experienced by those employing colored men in securing sufficient help Among those firms are the Alexandria Fertilizer and Chemical Company, the Virginia-Carolina Chemical company and the Bryant Fertilizer company. The reason assigned is the exodus of the colored people to Northern points where employment is offered at higher wages in road construction and other lines of employment. Those who claim to know affirm that at least seven hundred laborers have left the state within the past few months for that reason. When some of that arctic weather strikes them next winter they are very liable to wish they were back in a Southern climate.

Mr. W. W. Smith, of Broad Run, is the guest today of his son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Howard W. Smith, at their home in Wolfe street.

Mrs. Alfred H. Roberts and Miss Eliza H. Roberts have issued invitations for Wednesday evening, November 22, from 8 to 10, at the home of the latter, Cameron, to meet Mr. and Mrs. Edmund Hunt Roberts.

The Chamber of Commerce will hold its regular monthly meeting this evening, at which time several important subjects will be brought up for consideration.

Mrs. Emma Lindsey Goodrich was paralyzed about ten o'clock last night and died at four o'clock this morning at the residence of her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Braxton Smith, in the Wagar Apartments. Mrs. Goodrich was born in Alexandria, 70 years ago last Tuesday, and had lived her entire life in this city. She had been in failing health for several years, but her death was unexpected. She was a daughter of the late James Lindsey and the widow of Charles Goodrich. She is survived by two daughters and one son. Mrs. Braxton Smith, Mrs. Guy Mander and Mr. Sidney Goodrich. Mrs. Goodrich's grand-daughter, Mrs. Joseph Harris, left yesterday morning for Richmond to spend the winter. The funeral will take place Wednesday afternoon at 3 o'clock from the home.

Streets, Washington. All members wishing to go are requested to take the seven o'clock car.

Mrs. Jacob Edge, little Miss Elizabeth Edge and Master Jacob Edge,jr, of East Downington, Pa., have returned from a visit to relatives in Markham, Fauquier county, and will be the guest for two weeks of Mrs. Edge's mother, Mrs. John Hunton Foster, in the Ramsay Annex.

Lynnhaven Bay oysters are rightly considered the best variety on the Atlantic coast, and the specimens sent to this office on Saturday by Jacob Brill show that the reputation of these bivalves is being sustained. Mr. Brill is conducting what Alexandria and this section of Virginia has needed for a long time—a first class oyster house—that is a place where superior qualities can be found. He is one of the pioneers in this line. The best specimens of oysters are generally sent to markets where they bring fancy prices. Previous to 1914 England got the best of the oyster supply of Virginia, these delicacies being sent across the ocean on fast steamers. Under present conditions the European demand is not brisk, and Lynnhaven Bay and other first-class varieties oysters are again offered for home consumption. Mr. Brill at his stand at the foot of King street will have such for sale throughout the season.

TO ATTEND DEMOCRATIC PARADE.

A meeting was held at the rooms of the Chamber of Commerce this afternoon at 2 o'clock for the purpose of making arrangements to have Alexandria represented in the parade which will be given in Washington on Thursday evening next in honor of the splendid victory achieved by the re-election of Preident Wilson.

A general meeting of the heads of all the various civic and fraternal organizations in the city has been called for tomorrow night at 7:30 o'clock, in the Chamber of Commerce rooms, to perfect arrangements.

This is an invitation to every good democrat to jump in and help make a creditable showing for Alexandria. If you do not get a personal invitation to attend the meeting do not feel slighted, as the time is so short that it will be impossible to see everyone.

SENT TO THE REFORM SCHOOL.

Youth With a Record Arraigned in the Police Court For Stealing Brass From Depot

Roy Draper, a youth, was arrested yesterday charged with stealing brass from the depot of the Southern Railway Company. The accused was brought before the Police Court this morning, when it was stated that he and another boy appeared at a junk shop yesterday afternoon and attempted to dispose of the plunder. They were told by the proprietor that he bought nothing on Sunday. Later Draper was taken in custody. His companion will be arrested as soon as he can be located. Justice Caton sentenced the youth to the reform school.

Draper's father appeared in court and stated that the time had come for the authorities to take charge of his son. The parent alleged that he had done everything possible to arrest the boy in his downward course. The latter was taken out of the room while he was weeping, and upon being placed in the detention room his cries attracted the attention of the neighborhood. The boy was sent to the reform school during the past summer for pilfering, but he remained in the institution but a short time.

Oyster season opens at the Rammel Cafe, North Royal Street.

OBJECT TO "CIVIL WAR"

Inaugurate Campaign for Substitution of Phrase "War Between the States"

Dallas, Tex., Nov. 13.—After selecting Chattanooga, Tenn., as the 1917 convention city, the United Daughters of the Confederacy, at the final session of its twenty-second annual meeting here Saturday night, adopted resolutions declaring against histories and other textbooks used in Southern schools "which do not portray true history of the South," and inaugurated a campaign for the adoption of the phrase "War Between the States" as a substitute for "Civil War."

Other resolutions adopted included an indorsement of the congressional project for the placing of a Clara Barton window in the Red Cross Memorial Building at Washington, and funds were provided for installing a memorial window in the building by the organization. Provision also was made to eliminate the deficit in the Arlington monument fund.

Chattanooga was chosen for the 1917 convention, after the claims of St. Louis, Asheville and Birmingham had been considered. The Tennessee delegation parodied a popular song invitation "To Come to Tennessee," as their campaign battle cry, and won.

Scores of reports dealing with the educational, historical, philanthropical and memorial work of the organization were disposed of.

PRESIDENT AND WIFE BACK

Thousands of Persons Crowd Union Station, Washington, Last Night

Tired out after the strain of the past few days' traveling, President Wilson and Mrs. Wilson returned to the Capital last night at 9:15 o'clock. They were driven directly to the White House.

The huge concourse of the Union Station was crowded with thousands of men and women when the train drew in, and wild enthusiasm greeted the appearance of the President. The demonstration was considered a remarkable one for Washington, where the arrival and departure of the President is anything but a novelty. The parade in the President's honor, planned for tonight, was postponed until later in the week, probably Thursday or Friday, on account of the inclement weather.

ENCKE'S COMET REAPPEARS

German Astronomer Secures Photograph of It.

Heidelberg, Germany, Nov. 13—About a year and a half before its time, the Encke comet, due to appear again in the spring of 1918, has made its appearance dimly, and has been photographed by Professor Wolf from the observatory at Koenigstuhl, near here.

The comet is at present very far removed from the sun, which it ordinarily encircles in three and a half years. It is just about where it was reckoned it should be, but is unexpectedly visible.

KILLED IN AUTO WRECK

York, Pa., Nov. 13—Samuel B. Brodbeck, Jr., 24 years old, of Jefferson, this county was fatally injured in an automobile accident early yesterday morning near his home. He was found unconscious pinned under the overturned car and died several hours later of a fractured skull. It is believed the automobile ran up an embankment and upset. Young Brodbeck was a nephew of Congressman-elect A. R. Brodbeck.

ANXIOUS TO COME HOME

Members of Virginia State Militia on Border Want to be Relieved of Further Duty.

The Virginia State militiamen now on the border want to come home. Senator Swanson has had a conference with Secretary of War Baker, and urged him to order the Virginia boys home, if there is any possible chance of sparing them. The Virginians were among the first to go to the front. They feel they have served their share of the time.

Senator Swanson, after the conference, declared that there is a good chance for the militiamen, who went to the border shortly after the mobilization, to be ordered home and mustered out within a short time. He said if the War Department officials can arrange for their departure without impairing the patrols of the spector-instructor of the infantry

Exact figures relating to the mobilization of the Virginia militia last summer were submitted to Adutant-General Sale Friday in the report of Captain Arthur M. Shipp, of the United States Army. Captain Shipp was recently relieved from his duties as senior assistant mustering officer at Camp Stuart, Richmond, and inspector-instructor of the infantry of the State militia, and after a furlough he will return to active service with his regiment.

"In all, 165 officers and 2,853 men have been sent from this camp to the Southern Department," reports Captain Shipp. "Nineteen officers and 776 men have passed through the camp and have either been sent on recruiting duty, have resigned, been mustered out, been discharged or deserted, making a grand total of 185 officers and 3,630 men, or an aggregate of 3,795.

"Of this number there has not been a death, save an unfortunate railway accident in which two men were killed. There has been but one case of typhoid fever, contracted before arriving in camp. The man eventually recovered, but was never mustered in. The camp surgeon performed more than thirty capital operations, all successful.

"I largely attribute the health record to the intelligent and continued work of the camp surgeon, Major Junius F. Lynch, and his assistants, and to the State insuector-general, Lieutenant- Colonel Jo Lane Stern, whose valuable assistance and daily inspections contributed more than any other one thing towards making a clean and healthy camp."

The summary of military organizations sent to Texas from this State includes the First and Second Regiments, Infantry, Sent July 6; First Battalion, Field Artillery, October 2; Battery C, Field Artillery, October 3; First Squadron, Cavalry, October 17; Field Hospital, Signal Company, Company A, Engineers, October 18.

WILLCOX NOT CONVINCED

Says He Still Believes Hughes Was Elected President

New York, Nov. 13—"Will it be Hughes or Roosevelt in 1920?" was asked of Republican National Chairman William R. Willcox yesterday.

"It might be one and neither," was his reply. "Within the next four years there is likely to be an entirely new Republican alignment. New issues will develop, whether Wilson or Hughes is finally declared elected to the Presidency. Mr. Hughes never sought the Presidential nomination. He was drafted. He never lifted a finger to get it. His nomination came in response to Republicans and Independent summons. I still believe that he has been elected. I shall await the official returns and hope that they will demonstrate that he has been.

"As for California, when returns from the State switch in a moment from 500 for Hughes to 3,000 for Wilson, it is the duty of the campaign manager to investigate. I do not charge crookedness. But I do say that the vote must be counted as cast in California and elsewhere.

"We are watching the returns very closely. Minnesota seems to be all right. I hope that we may get better results from New Mexico and North Dakota."

Chairman Willcox had a long conference with Mr. Hughes at the Astor Hotel last night.

SUCCESS OF THE ALLIES

French-Serbian Forces Drive Teuton-Bulgar Army From Village of Iven.

Paris Nov. 13—A most violent battle is raging with continued success for the French-Serbian forces in the region about the big bend in the Cerna river, Saloniki headquarters reported to the war office today. Fighting has been going on for two days and nights.

The war office announcement confirmed the report from Serbian headquarters saying Teuton-Bulgar forces were driven from the village of Iven, and the French official statement added that the retreating armies are "falling back in disorder." The Serbian pursuit continues despite five counter-attacks.

"The enemy's losses were serious," the statement added.

"Somewhat to the west the Serbians have furher progressed north of Veliselos.

"Since September 12, the enemy has lost 6,000 prisoners, 72 guns, and 50 machine guns."

London, Nov. 13—Continuing their pursuit of retreating Bulgarian forces which were driven out of Polog in the Cerna front fighting, Serbian troops have captured Iven, north of Polog.

The fighting in this sector has been continuous night and day, the official statement which told of Iven's capture, said. The Bulgarians, time after time, attacked and occasionally gained a temporary advantage, which they failed, however, to maintain.

Fighting was particularly fierce along the Monastir-Florina railway.

Russians, Roumanians and Franco-Serbians are continuing their hammering against the lines of the central powers on every eastern and southeastern front today. At some points Germans and Austrians are attacking fiercely, but, according to advices from all the capitals, the larger successes are being won by the arms of the entente allies.

French troops are today co-ordinating the trenches and positions they wrested from the Germans yesterday at Sailly-Saillisel, on the west front, at which point sporadic German attempts to recapture the positions are going on with increasing intensity. A comparative lull maintains on other sections of the western front.

Telephone Company to be Taken over December 1st

The C. and P. Telephone Company has notified Mr. M. E. Church that the Falls Church Telephone and Telegraph Company will be taken over December 1. The transfer has been delayed because othe companies have been slow in responding when notified that the C. and P. desired to purchase the company. Not a single objection was made to the sale, and the Department of Justice granted permission to the transfer.

Among the changes contemplated will be the placing of a chief operator at the Rosslyn office instead of having her located at Falls Church as in the present instance—County Monitor).

THE PROHIBITION LAW

The quiet which prevailed in police circles during most of last week was considerably disturbed Saturday night and yesterday, a number of arrests for violations of the prohibition law and for drunkenness having been made. On the desk of the Police Justice this morning four bottles of whisky and one of gin were displayed. They had been taken from "drunks". One white and two colored men and a colored woman were sent on to the grand jury, and other prisoners were fined five dollars each for drunkenness.

It may not be generally known, but it is a fact nevertheless, that the Police Court can only handle cases where persons are brought before that tribunal simply for being drunk.

A fine of five dollars is provided in such cases. Bringing liquor into the city in greater quantities than allowed by law, drinking the same in public places, carrying stimulants to places other than homes, as well as all other infractions of the prohibition law are grand jury cases.

It will be well for all interested to remember this. The Moral Commissioner and his deputies are working in every section of the state to enforce the new law, and infractions of the same are liable to be aired in the police courts of the state. The statute is clear, and should the evidence be conclusive, those who may have the temerity to run risks will pay the penalty.

VICTIMS OF APHASIA.

The results of the election last week are far-reaching. The muzzling of some loquacious individuals who have been making themselves heard during the past few years is realized with much satisfaction in all sections of the country. A cotemporary in this connection observes that it looks as if several personages conspicuous in the recent campaign had been stricken dumb by the result of the election. One of them heretofore noted for perennial verbosity, has been able to articulate only five words—"I have nothing to say"—during the last few days, and another, the voluble Mr. O'Leary, appears to have had a padlock put upon his lips.

The American people love a fighter and the hero of Oyster Bay is one. But they admire even more a man who can control his tongue. One of the lessons of the recent campaign is the futility of political billingsgate and the folly of violent and bitter denunciation. Making due allowance for the influence of the European war upon excitable minds, one can see how much stronger Colonel Roosevelt could have made his case had he been master of his tongue and not its slave.

This lesson of the campaign is platitudinous but valuable. It repeats the old truth that he is mightier who ruleth his spirit than he who taketh a city. When Colonel Roosevelt recovers speech let us hope that he may better know how to use it.

MINISTER A REVOLUTIONIST.

The Rev. Mercer Green Johnston, Socialist clergyman, late rector of Trinity Church, Newark, N. J., spoke at the Open Forum yesterday, at the Academy of Music in Baltimore.

"I am no mere reformer," he declared, with evident earnestness: "I am a revolutionist. I am just as earnest in the advocation of the abolition of wage slavery as William Lloyd Garrison was when he spoke in Baltimore many years ago on the abolition of chattel slavery. The social monster of capitalism is alone responsible for the horrors of our social conditions. It has gripped alike the church and the political organization. They are absolutely dependent upon capitalism for their existence. To me the religious organization and the political organization of our land are as Romulus and Remus suckled by the she-wolf. The she-wolf is capitalism, and both the religious and political elements of our society must draw their nourishment from it; they can get no more than what capitalism designs to give them. Compromise is useless—dickering is useless. There is only one way to wipe out the abjectness of our social conditions—and that is take from capitalism the things that capitalism has wrongly acquired from the people. But we must end it, and we shall end it. We—and I say 'we' proudly because I am with and of the Socialist movement. We are not against the rich man, but against the system he creates. We want him with us; for there is no kingdom of God without brotherhood, and that can only be attained by brotherly action."

The Jacobins of Paris designated Queen Maris Antoinette as a she-wolf. The pastor referred to above is using the same figure of speech in America. That his vaporings are minus the spirit of the Author of Christianity is apparent. It would be useless to quote the many places in the New Testament which are opposite to his opinions.

KINGDOM OF ARABIA.

The present war in Europe has brought to the birth a new nation which is to be known as the Kingdom of Arabia. The dream of Mahomet has at different times been shattered, but present conditions may be favorable for the formation and perpetuation of a kingdom of the descendants of Esau.

Advised by cable from Mecca that an independent kingdom of Arabia has been established, the state department has inquired of England, France and Turkey as to the correctness of the information. If the existence of the new govenment is proved the United States can only recognize a de facto government until the terms of peace after the present war are decided. Last summer people of Arabia under Hussein Ben Ali, revolted against Turkish rule, captured Mecca from the Turkish garrison and drove the Turks from the surounding territory.

Editor Gazette:

Your correspondent finds himself comfortably situated in this beautiful little city nestling among the foothills of the Alleghenies and upon the banks of the Ohio, where the Rev. Gypsy Smith, Jr., is in the midst of an evangelistic campaign, supported by a partial co-operation and support of the Protestant churches in this city, assisted by his co-laborers, Prof. Cole and Miss Hoagland, whom Alexandrians remember with much pleasure as choirmaster and pianist, whose musical talents and sweet melodies appealed to all so forcibly and which were so much appreciated. The earnest and pathetic appeals of Gypsy Smith along with the sweet melodies of this musical duo, will ever remain precious in our memories.

We find that the people here have made ample provision in the way of accomodations. They have a very large and commodious tabernacle, fashioned after the "Billy Sunday" model, with a seating capacity of about 3,000, sawdust floor, and comfortably heated as well as ventilated. The attendance is not as large as one might expect from a town of this size, but in conversation with our friend Gypsy Smith, he says that during this first week of his services that weather conditions, together with political complications, election uncertainties, etc., the people had not fully become aroused to a sense of the importance of the campaign, but that he was anticipating great things. He seemed to be very optomistic, and spoke very encouragingly of the prospects of success. He has a very prolific field, the harvest is plenty, and we have no doubt that if the Christian people of this city will give him the same support and co-operation that the Alexandria people did, they will realize that Pentecost is not a departed glory, and that they will be blessed with an abundant harvest.

All of our people hold a warm spot in his heart and he is full of appreciation for them. His inquiries about them show his deep interest in our people, and of his pleasant experiences in our city. And also the people of Charlottesville, whose kindness and appreciation he referred to so feelingly. Your correspondent assured him that he held a warm place in the hearts and affections of Alexandria people, and of the fact that their prayers went with him wherever he went. His campaign in this city will close on December 3, by which time the name of Gypsy Smith will be a household word and everybody will love him for the good he has done as well as for the enemies he has made.

William Robert Sanders, remembered by many as the locomotive engineer who narrowly escaped death when, eleven years ago the old Long Bridge draw caved in beneath the baggage car of the train he was driving, died at his residence in Washington, yesterday. Mr. Sanders' death was caused by injuries received when he fell from the running board of a locomotive at Charlottesville, two weeks ago. He was 56 years old, and had been driving locomotives for the Chesapeake and Ohio Railroad for 30 years. Funeral services will be held at his native city, Richmond. Mr. Sanders is survived by his wife, and seven children.

The Democrats of Hamilton held a big celebration Friday night to celebrate President Wilson's re-election. A parade consisting of a number of decorated automobiles filled with Democrats passed through the towns of Hamilton, Purcellville, Round Hill and Lincoln, and a cannon was fired at each stop.

Democrats of Fredericksburg celebrated the victory of Woodrow Wilson with a parade, fireworks and bonfire Friday night. It was participated in by practically the entire town. Though hastily gotten up, the parade was a half mile long. Headed by a brass band, following which came "Prosperity" riding the Democratic donkey and carrying a banner inscribed "Back again," it was made up of various city organizations, the boy scouts, railroad men, other marchers and automobiles. Every one was plentifully supplied with lights and fireworks and many of the houses along the line of march were gaily decorated and lighted. "Funeral of the old Guard" of the Bachelor's Club was one of the features. Eight pallbearers carried the remains and were followed by a long line of mourners all dressed in sombre clothing. At the end of the line of march services were read, parodied hymns sung and the body at last cremanted in a bonfire. From an automobile carrying a crowd of women was prominently displayed on a transparency, "Who Kissed Charlie Hughes Last Night?"

Four men and three women had a narrow escape from death Friday night shortly after 11:30 o'clock when one of the front tires of the Cadillac touring car in which they were speeding along the Virginia Beach road toward Norfolk at a speed of about thirty five miles an hour blew out, and the car swerved from the road and turned turtle. T. B. Williams, the chauffeur, received a severe cut across the side of his face, Mrs. Belle Hunt, was badly bruised, and Louis M. Sumter, a United States sailor, was slightly injured. The other members of the party, two women and two civilians, escaped injury.

John Rigdon, one of the four alleged auto thieves brought back from Maryland yesterday by Detectives Wiley and Kellam, of Richmond, is in a serious condition as a result of injuries sustained when he jumped from the train in an attempt to escape. Rigdon, together with J. H. Hester, Andrew Young and James Norton, were arrested in Belair, Maryland, on a charge of stealing an automobile valued at $600 from W. J. Shellingbury, a broker of Richmond. Detectives Wiley and Kellam went to Belair, and took the men to Baltimore. They took a train there for Richmond, and about sixty miles from the city Rigdon asked permission to go into the toilet. Permitted to go, he jumped out of the window while the train was running. Detective Wiley stopped the train went back and picked up the injured man.

Luther Sheffield, twenty-seven years old, was killed yesterday morning about eight miles from Richmond near the Curl's Neck Farm. With some other men, Sheffield was attempting to raise a crippled horse from the ground and was constructing a sort of three-pronged scaffold for he purpose. One of the prongs suddenly slipped, striking him on the top of the head. An ugly gash was laid open, and his skull was fractured. He leaves a wife and two small children.

MEXICANS MASSACRE 100

Women and Children Among Victims of Zapatistas' Murderous Raid Upon Train

Laredo, Texas, Nov. 13—An indiscriminate massacre of nearly 100 women children and Carranza soldiers, who were traveling on a train near Contreras State of Morelos which was attacked by Zapata followers, is reported in Mexico City newspapers received here today. After the attack on the train, the dead lay in piles beside the cars the papers state.

Only one person so far as known, escaped death at the hands of the bandits. He was Capt. Antonio Prieges.

The attack occurred November 7. The passenger train was halted in a mountain wilderness after the military train had been allowed to pass unmolested. For 15 minutes the Zapatistas kept up the slaughter, slaying men and women, who prayed for mercy, and killing the babies who accompanied their mothers the papers declare. Soldiers aboard the passenger train were without their accoutrements and unable to offer any resistance. Among the list of dead given in the Mexico City papers is the name of Col. Garido Alfaro, two majors and three captains.

When a relief train reached the scene of the attack several hours after it occurred the Zapatistas had scattered into the hills. They had looted the express car of its valuables before departing.

FRENCH TAKE VILLAGE

Roumanians on Offensive on Transylvanian Front

London, Nov. 13—After days of sanguinary fighting, the village of Saillisel, lying to the east of Peronne- Baupaume road in the Somme region of France, has at last fallen entirely into the hands of the troops of Gen. Foch. In the capture of the town the French inflicted heavy casualties on the Germans and in addition captured 7 officers and 220 men and 8 machine guns. On the remainder of the front in France artillery duels are in progress.

Paris, Nov. 13—The war office announces that the French gained ground Saturday night in the battle which has been in progress for several days for possession of Sailly-Saillisel, on the Somme front. The Germans penetrated French trenches south of the Somme, but were subsequently expelled.

Bucharest, Nov. 13—The Roumanians have assumed the offensive on a considerable section of the Transylvanian front, after repulsing repeated Austro-German attacks, the War Office announces. The occupation of a number of positions is reported. In Dobrudja, Field Marshal von Mackensen's army has been driven farther to the south.

Self-Styled "Master Spy" May Get Five Years If Convicted.

Arrangements for the prosecution of Karl Armgaard Graves, self-styled "Master Spy" and magazine writer, who was arrested Saturday in Washington on a charge of attempting to extort $3,000 from Countess von Bernstorff, wife of the German Ambassador, will be completed today, at a conference between agents of the department of Justice, representatives of the District Attorney's office and Prince Hartzfeldt, counselor of the German Embassy. The name of Emperor William of Germany may be brought into the case indirectly as a result of this conference. A diplomatic representative in a foreign country cannot divest himself of his immunity from giving testimony without special permission from his sovereign. As Graves conversed solely with Prince Hatzfeldt, it may be that the District Atorney's office will determine that his testimony is essential,

It is not expected that either Countess von Bernstorff or the German Ambassador will be requested to appear against Graves. The warrant was sworn out by A. Bruce Bielaski chief of the Bureau of Investigation, of the Department of Justice, as the complaining witness.

The warrant is made out on two counts. One charges attempt to extort, the penalty for which is five years' imprisonment or a fine of $1,000 or both. The other charges that Graves brought into the District of Columbia letters obtained by theft, the penalty for this offense being nearly as severe as for the first one.

The letters for which Graves is alleged to have asked $3,000 remain in the possession of agents of the Department of Justice. The German embassy is familiar with their contents and is understood to have agreed that they be kept by the prosecuting officials as evidence.

The German Embassy is most anxious to learn how Graves obtained the letters which he is alleged to have thought would "embarrass" Countess von Bernstor, if made public. It is considered unlikely, however, that information on this point can be obtained until the steamship Oscar III, upon which Graves declares they were brought to the United States returns to New York.

Graves was in New York yesterday. He left Washington late Saturday night after his release on $2,000 bail, saying he intended to secure counsel before his return for the preliminary hearing on Wednesday morning.

REV. CAVNAUGH'S NEW FIELD.

Former Alexandria Pastor in Charge of Church at Bainbridge, N. Y.

The Brainbridge, N. Y., Republican has the following to say concerning Rev. John Cavnaugh, formerly pastor of the Free Methodist church, in Alexandria:

"The present pastor of the Free Methodist church of Bainbridge is a man of great interest. Born in Lynchburg, Va., he spent his early life in Richmond. He entered the confederate army during the war and was bugler in Stuart's cavalry, took an active part in the seven days battle at Cold Harbor, July 18 to 21 respectively, where the battle front was 20 miles in length from James river to Richmond. It is most interesting to listen to Mr. Cavnaugh's reminiscences, how among other things the mail was passed to the "boys in blue" down that 20 mile breastwork from hand to hand until the letter found its owner. During the engagement near Dutch Gap he was captured at Howlat House on the James River and carried a prisoner to Mart's Island where he was detained until the close of the war. The account of the sufferings and privations of the boys in blue and in gray during those days are inspiring in its patriotic fervor which grows with privations and super human sacrifices instead of diminishing as Mr. Wilson would have us suppose.

"Mr. Cavnaugh has preached all through the south and has been a resident of Washington, D. C., for 20 years, having seen all the Presidents from Grant down to the present day. Being by vocation a painter he has painted the houses of President Grant and Garfield and General Sherman. The great Jefferson Davis was a personal friend of Mr. Cavnaugh, and it is most interesting to hear of this historical figure from the lips of one who knew him.

"The most wonderful events in his life Mr. Cavnaugh claims were the days of the anniversary of Gettysburg, three years ago. Here Mr. Cavnaugh preached three days running from morn until evening. The white city of 18,000 tents each housing eight of the veterans, and their ages varying from 65 to one hundred and ten years, was an event that Mr. Cavnaugh says surpassed anything in the experiences of his life.

"The Free Methodist Society sprang from the Methodist church in 1860, and was organized in Bainbridge in 1868, the family of Edmund Pettys being among its charter members. For the last 15 years there has been no regular meetings held in the little church on Front street and the supporters have grown fewer and fewer until now the congregation is very small. The people however, are hoping for better things now they have been able to obtain the Rev. John Cavnaugh as their resident preacher.

CHANCELLOR'S SPEECH.

Danish and Dutch Papers Says His Language is Significant

Berlin, Nov. 12. — Comment by Danish and Dutch papers, on the recent speech of the imperial German chancellor in the Reichstag is given out by the overseas News Agency The Politiken (Copenhagen) says:

"Of all the speeches made during the war by leading statesmen, Dr. von Bethman-Hollweg's last speech is the most remarkable, because coming from the German side, it goes farthest into the future, thus awakening hopes for a new order of society when the principles of peace are triumphant."

The Politiken, according to the Overseas Agency, says that the most important points of the speech are the declaration that the chancellor had never mentioned the annexation of Belgium as Germany's intention, and the general remark that the policy of might could not be the basis for an efficient international league of peace.

The Tijd (Amsterdam) says: "Whoever reads the German chancellor's speech with unprejudiced mind, as is proper in these times, cannot help being convinced that it has to do with an honest and sincere man. Whoever reads the chancellor's explanations regarding the diplomatic relations preceding the war cannot but believe in the exactitude of the chancellor's statements. David Lloyd George's move on the chess board of the immediate future has been answered by a move which is not inferior —'the enemy wants Constantinople, and I never said that we want to keep Belgium'."

NEWS OF THE DAY

"Pipe dreams" is Theodore Roosevelt's characterization of reports that he is looking toward the Republican nomination in 1920.

A large number of engine drivers have been called up for army service in Schleswig-Holstein, and women are being trained to take their place.

A dispatch from London says Lloyds betting odds that peace will ensue within another year are now 60 to 100 as against 30 to 100 two weeks ago.

The Balkan express which runs between Constantinople and Berlin, dashed at full speed yesterday into a party of women section hands in a suburb in Berlin. Nineteen women were killed. There was a heavy fog at the time. The women had stepped out of the way of a westbound train and did not observe the approach of the Balkan express.

Frank Border, 18, met death in frightful form yesterday at Lebanon, Pa., when he was caught in the loop of a bar of white-hot iron and both of his legs sawed off by the bar as it flashed through the rolls of the seven-inch mill at the Lebanon Valley Iron and Steel Company's plant, in Hebron. Border was employed at the rolls and was the sole support of his widowed mother.

Leon A. Gilman, 19 years old, murdered his cousin, Edward B. Gilman, 20, at an early hour yesterday at Williamantic, Conn., by pressing a pillow over his head while he slept and then firing a pistol bullet into his brain. Later, Gilman, who is supposed to have gone suddenly insane, went to the home of his grandfather, Nelson Gilman, sr., and shot and probably fatally injured the man. His relatives can assign no reason for young Gilman's act.

The State Department was officially informed yesterday that the American-Haytian steamship Columbia, with Americans on board, had been sunk by a torpedo near Cape Ortegal, on the north coast of Spain. The crew was landed at Corunna. Secretary of State Lansing said last night the department had not received a sufficiently detailed report upon which to base an opinion as to whether international law had been violated. Further information has been asked for.

Suffering from injuries that may cause her death, Elizabeth Faiss, 15 years old was taken last night to St. Joseph's Hospital, Philadelphia. An hour later, detectives arrested the girl's father, Andrew Faiss, and charged him with being responsible for his daughter's injuries. According to the police, Faiss returned to his home last night intoxicated. He quarreled with his wife and when the child interfered, the police say, he struck her on the jaw and then kicked her several times in the stomach.

Yesterday's corrections, additions and subtractions left the Hughes plurality in Minesota at 260. The total vote to date was: Wilson, 178,548; Hughes, 178,808. Cass county's revised returns gave Wilson 1,260 and Hughes 982. Faribault county soldiers favored Wilson 14 to 12. Tabulation of reports from the country auditors at the capitol is to begin this week, and first sheets are expected tomorrow. There are a few precints to hear from, and practically all of the Second and Third regiments.

While struggling with a stranger on the highway, in an attempt to save her purse containing several hundred dollars, Mrs. Lottie Goodrich, a visitor at Redondo Beach, Cal, attracted the attention of a ragged individual who was passing on the boulevard. This person rushed to the woman's assistance and succeeded in driving away her assailant. He assisted her to her home and, after having served him with dinner, Mrs. Goodrich discovered that her protector was her brother, whom she had not seen since he was a boy.

Edward Ostrander, proprietor of the Riverview Hotel, in Northville village, N. Y., was shot and killed yesterday. Three hours later John Elkinberg and his wife, who live within sight of the hotel, were arrested at the point of a revolver. After being questioned, they confessed to the crime, according to Sheriff Shepard. It is said Elkinberg told the sheriff that the wrong man was killed, and that he intended to kill John Bettinger, who earlier in the evening had separated Mrs. Elkinberg and another woman in a hair-pulling contest.

Two persons were instantly killed and three others badly injured, one mortally yesterday near Newark, N. Y., when their automobile was struck by an express train. The dead are Thelma Jackson, 16, and Richard Jackson, 14, of Newark. The injured are Malbie Clarke 16, back broken; Gladys Clark, 18, and Harold Scarth, 18. All are Newark high school students, with the exception of Miss Clarke, who is a student at the University of Rochester. Miss Clark was driving and is said to have started the car across the tracks after a freight train had passed, without stopping to look for another train.

A strike of four hundred thousand trainmen, unless the railroads of the country put into effect the eight-hour day January 1, is the answer of President William G. Lee, of the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen, to the suits of the railway executives to invalidate the Adamson law. Any railroad that attempts to cancel the present schedule of hours and pay, or refuses to put the eight-hour day into effect, will find himself with a strike on its hands, law or no law," said Lee in a statement issued yesterday in Cleveland, Ohio. "The power that was given us last spring, when 400,000 employes of the railroads voted to strike unless the railroads granted our demands, is just as good now as it was then, and will be invoked if necessary. What the Supreme Court does with the law is no concern of ours. We have demanded fair working hours and we are going to get them."

Mr. Wittman also reported that other Pennsylvania farmers had contracted for delivery of eggs in New York at from 62 to 65 cents, and that inquiries were being made in eastern counties for prices on mid-winter eggs.
